Students who sign up for an internship will not only acquire practical techniques in clay, they will also learn how to maintain a pottery studio. The internship is open to students who have previous experience with clay. This is an unpaid position that offers studio time and access to materials and firing, in exchange for helping with the basic operation of the studio. Interns will be required to work a minimum of 2 hours per week during studio hours of operation. The schedule can be tailored to the intern's needs.

Interviews will be scheduled once we receive your application.
